

As Advertised In

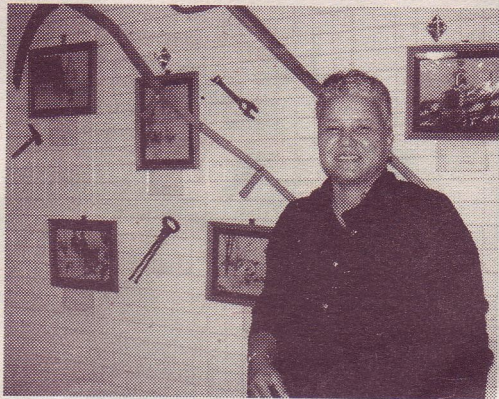

Discover

Centreville, Clifton
& Chantilly's Values

Afro-American Historical Association Celebrates Black History Month

The national theme for Black History Month this year is "Carter G. Woodson and the Origins of Multiculturalism."

To celebrate the month, the Afro-American Historical Association (AAHA) is sponsoring a production entitled "A Visit to History." Performances will be held at AAHA on February 16 and 23 at 2:00 p.m. and March 1 at 12:30 and 4:30 p.m. Tickets are $10 each.

Karen Hughes White

Located in The Plains, AAHA "documents and preserves the local African-American experience for the purpose of teaching a complete and accurate history of Fauquier County." Founded by Fauquier natives Karen Hughes White and Karen Lavore, the organization celebrated its 15th anniversary this past summer.

For more information on AAHA events, call (540) 253-7488 or visit their Web site at www.aahafauquier.org.